“The Church’s Response: Redemptive Restoration”

John 11:17-44

1. What is one thing that stood out to you or challenged you from this week’s sermon?
2. Why is listening such a crucial response to a person or group expressing an offense or injustice?
3. What part does learning play in the process of reconciliation and restoration?
4. Lament is a biblical concept that is often neglected. Why is it important that we take the time to lament over injustice, instead of immediately trying to “fix” it.
5. How does lamenting over injustice help us to connect with those who have been treated unjustly?
6. What are some ways we can leverage God’s provision for the cause of the oppressed?
7. In what way(s) does the church’s response to injustice reflect the gospel and the love of God for sinful humanity?
